INTRODUCTION

The data presented here are based on the results of the provincewide Relance Survey of Vocational Training at the Secondary Level, conducted annually by the Ministère de l'Éducation, du Loisir et du Sport (MELS).

The purpose of this survey is to provide an accurate picture of the situation of graduates from secondary-level vocational training programs approximately nine months after they have earned a diploma. It meets a need for accurate, relevant information on how well recent graduates are faring on the labour market, just as the other two Relance surveys do in the case of college and university graduates.

For further information on the programs covered in this brochure or on related matters, please refer to the other Relance survey documents available on the Ministère's Web site at <http://www.mels.gouv.qc.ca/Relance/Relance.htm>.

HIGHLIGHTS

The highlights from the 2004 survey (describing the situation on March 31, 2004) are as follows:

- The employment rates, calculated almost nine months after graduates obtained their Diploma of Vocational Studies (DVS) or Attestation of Vocational Specialization (AVS), were 75.9% and 76.8%, respectively. The employment rate since 2000 has varied between 73.6% and 76.7% for DVS holders, and between 73.7% and 77.2% for AVS graduates.
- The unemployment rates for DVS and AVS graduates have fallen since 2000, with the exception of AVS graduates in 2003. These rates fell respectively from 13.0% to 11.6% and from 12.4% to 10.3%. The rates are slightly higher than the rate for the active population of Québec as a whole, which was 9.3% in March 2004.
- DVS holders accounted for 87.2% of graduates working full time (30 hours or more per week), while the corresponding figure for AVS graduates was 86.4%. Since 2000, there has been very little variation in the full-time employment rate for both groups.
- Among the DVS graduates who were working full-time, 76.0% considered their job to be related to their field of study. The corresponding percentage for AVS holders was 68.8%.
- Overall, the pay level of DVS and AVS graduates with a full-time, salaried job has risen since 2000. From 2000 to 2004, the average gross weekly salary increased from $464 to $529 for a DVS graduate, and from $480 to $548 for an AVS graduate, although the average gross weekly salary for women in both groups remains below that for men. For DVS graduates, the gap appears to remain steady, whereas for AVS graduates it has gradually narrowed since 2001.

GLOSSARY OF THE MAIN TERMS USED IN THE TABLES

TARGET GRADUATES

"Target graduates" refers to all holders of a Diploma of Vocational Studies (DVS) or an Attestation of Vocational Specialization (AVS) who graduated during the academic year preceding the survey year.

EMPLOYED

"Employed" refers to target graduates who stated they were self-employed or working for an employer full-time, and not studying full-time.

SEEKING EMPLOYMENT

"Seeking employment" refers to target graduates who stated they were actively looking for a job and were neither studying nor working.

STUDYING

"Studying" refers to target graduates who stated they were either studying full-time or part-time, and not working.

INACTIVE

"Inactive" refers to target graduates who stated they were not employed, were not seeking employment, and were not studying.

WORKING FULL-TIME

"Working full-time" refe . to graduates working full-time, i.e. generally 30 hours or more per week.

WORKING PART-TIME

"Working part-time" refers to graduates working part-time, i.e. generally less than 30 hours per week. The proportion of graduates working part-time is obtained by subtracting the proportion of graduates working full-time from 100%.

AVERAGE GROSS WEEKLY SALARY

"Average gross weekly salary" represents the average gross income earned by workers for one week of full-time work. The data reflect only graduates working for an employer.

WORKING IN RELATED FIELD

"Working in related field" refers to graduates working full-time who consider their job to be connected to their field of study.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE (UNEMPLOYED)

"Unemployment rate (unemployed)" refers to the number of graduates seeking employment compared with the number of people in the labour force (which includes people who are employed and people who are seeking employment).

HOW INDICATORS ARE CALCULATED

The calculation table below uses data from the 2004 Relance Survey at the Secondary Level – Vocational Training to illustrate the application of the definitions of the main terms used in the tables.

Calculation example: Results of the 2004 survey of graduates with a DVS

	Number	%	Calculation
Number of graduates targeted by the survey (size of the population)	27 461
Total number of graduates who completed the questionnaire	19 232	100.0

NOTES

1. Given the confidential nature of the data and a concern for maintaining the anonymity of the respondents, results for programs for which the number of graduates is less than five are not presented here. A list of these programs can be consulted in the survey report.
2. In cases where the response rate does not meet publication requirements, the results are not presented. A list of these programs can be consulted in the analysis document.
3. Because of the small number of graduates in certain programs, results in such cases should be interpreted with caution.
4. The programs have been classified according to their most recent codes. However, the results take into consideration data pertaining to the corresponding earlier programs.
5. The abbreviation "n.a." indicates that the data are not available.
6. An "x"" indicates that the data must remain confidential.
7. An asterisk (*) indicates that the program is taught in English.
8. In this sector, the percentage of employed graduates increased significantly between March 31, 2004 and June 1, 2004. Graduates included in the "studying" category on March 31, 2004 are not taken into consideration.
